The card is accepted at more than 65,000 pharmacies nationwide, including all of the leading chains. You can call your local pharmacy to ask if they accept the card or you can search for a pharmacy through our participating pharmacy list. Can I use my card for mail-order prescriptions? Yes. The card is accepted by your pharmacy's mail order facility. Contact your pharmacy for more details. The amount of savings does vary, as do prices at any given pharmacy. Generally, you will save an average of 24 percent on prescription drugs. Present your card to the pharmacist along with your prescription and you will receive a specific price quote. Will I always receive the lowest price? Yes. You will receive the best price available to you at the pharmacy. On occasion, pharmacies will price a particular medication lower than the discount rate provided by the card. If that occurs, you will receive the lower price. Can I find out the discounted price of my prescription before going to the pharmacy? Because prices can vary by location, only the actual pharmacy can tell you the exact price of the prescription. Present your card to the pharmacist along with your prescription and you will receive a specific price quote. The pharmacist said that I did not receive a discount. What happened? It was determined at the pharmacy that the price for that specific prescription, on that specific day, was better than the discounted price offered with card use. Either way, you, the cardholder, always get the best price possible from the pharmacy handling your prescription order. Why did the price of my prescription change since the last time I purchased the prescription? Prescription drug prices are different from pharmacy to pharmacy. Even chains have different prices in their stores depending on the population they are servicing. Additionally, prices of prescription drugs from the manufacturers change periodically. Why did my pharmacist tell me I would have to pay full price and that my group would reimburse me my discount later? The pharmacist may have misunderstood the program you are using. There are cash-type programs that reimburse later, but those are funded plans. As a consumer card user, the member is responsible for 100% of the cost (less discount) at the point of sale. It is also possible that the pharmacy decided to no longer participate in the RxSavings Plan. With thousands of pharmacies in the program, there is always a chance of some change. Why was I told, by my pharmacist, that I would have to submit a paper claim to receive my discount? The pharmacist may have misunderstood the program you are using. There are cash-type programs that require paper submission. As long as you present your card, every time you visit the pharmacy, then the pharmacist will process the claim and paper will not be required. There are no paper claim transactions under this program. Why was I told that I had to choose between my senior discount and my RxSavings Plan. I thought I could get both? Pharmacies typically allow one type of discount per visit. The pharmacist will run your Caremark card and determine which price is better for you, the customer. Either way, you always get the best price possible by showing your RxSavings Plan card. Why was I told that my dependent (i.e. Son, Daughter, Husband or Wife) could not use my card? I thought that I had household coverage? The card covers the entire family, but you may want to get separate cards for each family member. If this scenario occurs, please ask the pharmacist to run the card again. Why did my pharmacy tell me that they are no longer participating in the plan but they are showing on the current provider listing? First, please accept our apology. Each pharmacy in our network has a contract with Caremark. It is possible that the person you spoke with either made a mistake, or was unaware of this network. It is also possible that the pharmacy decided to no longer participate in the RxSavings Plan. With thousands of pharmacies in the program, there is always a chance of some change. Please call Caremark at 1-800-238-2623. We'll be happy to contact the provider for you and straighten out the problem or provide a pharmacy close to you that accepts the RxSavings Plan. Why did my pharmacist process claims with a previous discount card provider even though I presented my current Caremark card? The pharmacist may not have run the card correctly. Depending on the information they have in their system, they may think you are already a member and utilize your old information. This is why it is important to present your card every time and see to it the pharmacist runs it appropriately. Do you have a question or concern that isn't covered here? Do I have to choose between my RxSavingsPlus card and the Wal-Mart $4 generic option? No, always present your RxSavingsPlus card at a participating pharmacy, including Wal-Mart, so you will receive the lowest price available from the pharmacy for that prescription medication on that day. You will receive the $4 price at Wal-Mart, when applicable, and the RxSavingsPlus discounted price when it is lower. Should I still present my RxSavingsPlus card at Wal-Mart when buying a $4 generic? Yes, always present your RxSavingsPlus card when buying prescriptions not covered by a prescription drug benefit plan. For generic medication on the Wal-Mart list, you will pay either $4 or the RxSavingsPlus price, whichever is lower. Can I get an additional discount off the Wal-Mart Generic Drug Program - $4 for select generics - if I show my RxSavingsPlus Card? No, when presenting your RxSavingsPlus card, you will receive either the pharmacy's regular price for the prescription medication or the RxSavingsPlus discounted price, whichever is lower. If Wal-Mart's $4 price for select generics is lower than the RxSavingsPlus price, you will pay $4. With the RxSavingsPlus card, you will receive the best price available for your prescription medication on that day from that pharmacy.
