Player-vs-player games are always fun because of their competitive nature, especially if the game involves forming teams. If you're looking for a different but still equally fun team-up PVP game, then you've come to the right page. This game is called Bed Wars and it's an action strategic block game where you play with 16 players. All the players will be divided into 4 teams and each team will have an island where players will begin. The island has a base where players can purchase items and weapons, as well as a bed, which will act as the main structure. The goal of the game is to destroy the other team and be the last team standing. To do that, you will need to destroy the opposing team's bed. As long as the bed exists, a player can always revive after getting killed. Sounds fun? Well, it is and you won't regret downloading and playing this action game. If you're not yet satisfied with the description, perhaps the features will entice you. One of the features of Bed Wars is that it also has a building component. All the islands are separate from each other, so you will need to build a bridge to get to the other islands. Similar to Minecraft, the game also has a build component, where you can place blocks that you and other players can use to step on. You can also destroy the block using the weapon you have in Bed Wars. Doing this will also result in you acquiring certain items like a wooden axe, another block to use, or arrows. Resources are Automatically Produced You will need resources to upgrade your weapons or purchase new items to use. Though you can acquire these resources by destroying other blocks, your island will automatically produce resources for you to use. This thing makes it easier to have enough resources to purchase new items or upgrade your existing one and use it. The Game is Free to Play But the best thing about Bed Wars is that it is available for free. You can download the game on the Google Play Store without having to worry about paying for it.
