

Gun Control: Keeping Guns Out of the Wrong Hands

ESSAYPRO How To Order Reviews About Us Write My Essay DBA: EPRO Log In Sign Up

WRITING SERVICE AT YOUR CONVENIENCE

You - Send us your homework
We - Do it all for you

Grab your original paper for just $10 per page with a free plagiarism report included

Write My Essay!

Calculate the price

Writing | Rewriting | Editing

Essay (any type) ▾

College ▾ 2 weeks ▾

1 page / 275 words ▾ +

Double spaces Single spaces

$11.4 🔥

Write My Paper

NO MORE SLEEPLESS NIGHTS...
100% PLAGIARISM-FREE ESSAYS. ANY TOPIC OR DIFFICULTY CAN BE HANDLED!

EssayPro Reviews ★★★★★ 4.9

ResellerRatings ★★★★★ 4.9

Sitejabber ★★★★★ 4.8

LINK => <http://787787.com/writing-service?336677009>

People have questioned gun control long time. Many people wonder if anyone, aside from those who join the law force, should be allowed to carry guns. Benjamin Franklin once said, "Those who can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety" (Wright 4). Franklin understood that taking guns away from law-abiding citizens would not uphold their liberty. Some people who argue for gun control state many violent crimes involve guns. Others believe a child could find the gun and something bad could happen to the child or others when a gun is unsafely stored. People who argue against gun control might say there is a huge psychological gap between citizens who shoot to protect themselves or their property and those who go into schools and shoot at others. Criminals will always find a way around gun control laws and will be able to obtain and use guns illegally. The second amendment protects gun rights for individual citizens. Reasonable gun control laws and educational steps can be taken to protect the majority of U.S. citizens. Gun control does not only take guns away from criminals, gun control also limits law-abiding citizens from protecting themselves and their families when necessary. Those who argue for gun control usually state guns are a part of most violent crimes. However, this is not always true. While it is true that limiting gun ownership with laws could prevent individuals from possessing guns, it does not prevent people from illegally having or using guns. Those who carry guns legally are not the problem. According to Mark Gius, the author of "Gun Ownership and the Gun Control Index", "...only about 25% of total violent crime is committed by a person using a gun, no inferences..... middle of paper can be put into place so that gun control does not limit law-abiding citizens from keeping guns on their property or person and protecting themselves or others when necessary. Works Cited Gius, Mark. "Gun Ownership and the Gun Control Index." Atlantic Economic Journal 36.4 (2008): 497-98. Print. "Home Is Where The Gun Is." New Scientist 212.2835 (2011): 6. Academic Search Complete. Web. 22 Nov. 2013. Jacobs, James B., and Kimberly A. Potter. "Keeping Guns out of the 'Wrong' Hands: The Brady Law and the Limits of Regulation." The Journal of Criminal Law & Criminology 86.1 (1995): 93-120. Print. Trotter, Gayle S. "Independent Women's Forum." Congressional Digest Mar. 2013: 25-31. Print. Wright, Stephen E. "Gun Control Laws Will Not Save Lives." Guns and Crime. Ed. Christine Watkins. Detroit: Greenhaven Press, 2012. Opposing Viewpoints in Context. Web. 22 Nov. 2013.

Other Articles:

- It Buyer Resume
- Literature Review Biofuel
- Folklore Literature And Cultural Theory Collected Essays
- Obamas Work Resume
- Blood Flow And Changes On Blood Volume Biology
- Of Mice And Men Thesis Statement
- Violent Behavior And The Brain