

Developing My Personal Literacy Skills

The screenshot shows the EssayPro website. At the top left is the EssayPro logo and navigation links: "How To Order", "Reviews", "About Us", and "Write My Essay". On the top right, there are links for "DBA: EPRO", "Log In", and "Sign Up". The main banner features a student sleeping at a desk with the text: "WRITING SERVICE AT YOUR CONVENIENCE", "You - Send us your homework", "We - Do it all for you", and "Grab your original paper for just $10 per page with a free plagiarism report included". A "Write My Essay!" button is present. A "Calculate the price" calculator is overlaid on the right, showing options for "Writing", "Rewriting", and "Editing", with "Writing" selected. It also shows "Essay (any type)", "College", "2 weeks", "1 page / 275 words", "Double spaces" selected, and a price of "$11.4" with a "Write My Paper" button. Below the banner, there are three review sections: "EssayPro Reviews" with a 4.9 rating, "ResellerRatings" with a 4.9 rating, and "Sitejabber" with a 4.8 rating.

My personal literacy development has been a constant struggle since my arrival in America as a boy with a Spanish-speaking mother and a bi-lingual father. We spoke Spanish at home. As I began school I could only speak a small amount of English and understood only slightly more. I learnt, as young children do, through listening to the people around me and using any visual aids I could to scaffold the gaps in my understanding (Winch, Johnston, March, Ljungdahl, Holliday, 2012). My lack of basic literacy affected every area of my learning with only math classes allowing me to feel slightly comfortable due to the international nature of numerical literacy. I quickly developed the oracy skills required to be able to contribute to social and academic situations but unfortunately developed other ways to hide my lack of progress in other areas.

My reading and writing skills were still very poor when I left primary school, I had missed out on a lot of the foundations of these skills and they were never addressed again in my later schooling life. I used many shortcuts like audio books and abridged texts to lessen the amount of reading I was required to do during my time in high school. My reading abilities remained at the same level for many years and it took a wonderful author and a 28 hour flight to remedy this. My vocabulary and comprehension have improved immeasurably in the time since that day and now I love to read and do a lot of additional reading to develop my literacy further. Within the area of written literacy my main difficulties are with punctuation and grammar. It is only now in the past year I have taken the time and had the motivation to improve my writing. After completing a unit entitled Thinking and Writing at Univers...
