Christina Rossetti was born in London on December 5, 1830. She is regarded by many as “one of the most important women poets in writing” in England during the nineteenth-century (Everett). Rossetti’s best known for writing a collection of pieces known as Goblin Market and Other Poems that was published in 1862 (Christina Rossetti). Many have argued that her most notable poem of the collection, “Goblin Market,” has a strong biblical undertone. By analyzing the characters and symbolisms of “Goblin market” against their biblical counterparts, we will attempt to find the stories true message.

When looking into the characters of Rossetti’s “Goblin Market,” it becomes clear that they represent different aspects of religious texts and scriptures. On one hand, we have Laura who represents the innocence of mankind and its battle to resist temptation. On one other hand, we have Lizzie who plays the role of Laura’s sister and savior; much in the way Jesus Christ is considered the brother and savior of mankind. These two characters help set the stage for the religious text that is present throughout the story.

When reading the story it becomes clear that Laura represents mankind and its struggle to overcome temptation. When Lizzie “thrust a dimpled finger / In each ear, shut eyes and run,” Laura decided “to linger,” which represents how vulnerable mankind truly is when they are tempted with worldly desires (Rossetti, 67-69). Additionally, Laura finally succumbed to temptation and enjoyed the goblins offering and:

She sucked until her lips were sore;
Then flung the emptied rinds away
But gathered up one kernel-stone,
And knew not was it night or day
As she turned home alone. (Rossetti,136-139)
