1- Introduction

Education is considered to be one of the most important things in our life. We can say that education is the knowledge or the skill that can be taken. Education can teach us as individuals or communities the good things and the bad, it can help us to have a good choice for our future based on our strengths or weaknesses (in high school you can gain these skills) and direct us to our role in society. Some countries do not have good standards in education, resulting in a society having aimless lives. Some of them find themselves as criminals or useless people so they did not feel their role to improve their countries and most of them do not take their responsibilities toward their children, which makes the children consider as negative citizens.

It is noticeable that the system of education is changing from time to time based on financial issues and how the world is growing. In the past, individuals taught the education system from the oldest member of the family to children, and their members were charging fees from the families that sent their children to them. Which meant that education was an important thing in all ages. Nowadays, the education is shaped to an official system run by professional people in governments and many countries invest high amounts towards education which makes evidence of how important it is in our current life. Every country has a different system of education based on their financial stability, government infrastructure and the standard of the government officials. It is noticeable that there is a big difference between the education in developing countries and the prevailing system in developed countries .In my essay I will discuss some reasons for these differences...
