Glenn McCoy's political cartoon, on the website Townhall.com, is a parody of President Obama's Affordable Care Act and the 1921 tragedy of the Titanic voyage. It is very well known that the Titanic was thought to be unsinkable and because of that misconceived notion there were far more people than life boats. While on its first voyage the Titanic struck an ice burg and sank to the bottom of the ocean killing the majority of its passengers and crew. The captain of the Titanic was said to have made the decision to sink with his ship instead of taking a much needed spot on the lifeboats. Obamacare is the nickname given to the Affordable Care Act. The Affordable Care Act was signed and made law by President Obama on March 23, 2010. The law is meant to improve access to affordable health care coverage, protect from insurance company practices that leave people without the coverage they need, and strengthen Medicare. Coverage will vary for those who already have coverage and want to keep it and those who do not have any coverage. Americans with health insurance already were promised they would see few changes. The law is meant to give new benefits and strengthen protection from insurance company abuses. The most well heard sentence from President Obama himself is that "If you like your health care plan, you will be able to keep your health care plan. Period." That means that if you are satisfied with your current coverage it does not need to be changed. Uninsured Americans or Americans that do not have coverage from work are supposed to be able to compare and shop through a variety of affordable plans that can meet their health care needs. Many people are in agreement that Obama's Affordable Care Act is his Titanic; The act has lost hi..... middle of paperation. It is obvious both thing in the picture are ridiculous but in real life when the picture is not nearly as blunt or neat it is easy to miss the absurd situation. The Obama administration continues to blow smoke about the good the health care law will do and Obama himself refuses to realize the reality that his ship is sinking and his legacy will be nothing but a mess left for the next president to clean up.
