The cultivated and huge anime universe of the Naruto-Manga led to the creation of an entire generation of games, like Naruto Senki, based on his adventures and the language of the characters, which occur in his stories. Endless faceHordes with Naruto and his friends has an action-packed Naruto game in which players choose between different characters such as Naruto or Sasuke for example. The mechanics are typical of 2D horizontal games, at the same pace, where we have to avoid various obstacles that we can use to defend against enemy attacks when we try to finish them off. On the left we have a button to control movements and the character buttons on the right to hit and initiate all kinds of attacks. Fans of Naruto and his adventures will love this game and its amazing graphics, reminiscent of the games we've seen on video consoles like the Nintendo DS. Also, despite the fact that the game has not been updated for many years (as of 2018), it can be played without problems since it does not require an internet connection.
